Dedication: David Jewett

This year's program is dedicated to David Jewett in recognition and appreciation for his years of service as Master of Ceremonies for all the events occurring on the Fourth of July.

For many years, David has spent his Fourth of July up on the reviewing stand announcing the various activities which were taking place and informing the public of the entries in the parade as they come up Main Street and "pass in review." Perhaps his most unique talent was to get little kids to come up on the reviewing stand to be "interviewed" and to answer questions about America's history and the meaning of Independence Day. David came up with this idea and thoroughly enjoyed asking the children the "Independence Day questions." The whole process was broadcast over the public address system for all to hear, and it was a great crowd pleaser. The children, lined up and waiting their turn, seemed to enjoy it as well. This is one of David's lasting contributions to Andover's Fourth of July Celebration, and this tradition will be continued in his name.

On the Fourth of July, David has been one of Andover's "standouts" in so many ways. The Fourth of July Committee is grateful to David for his service and is honored to recognize him in this dedication.

The Andover Fourth of July Committee

A Brief History of Andover's Fourth of July Celebration

The earliest account of an Andover Fourth of July observance was in 1817, honoring the 41st anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence. The bitterness following the war was dying out, and all parties joined together for the event. A procession formed at East Andover, marched to the meetinghouse for prayer, reading of the Declaration, and oration by Headmaster Benjamin Tyler. The procession then marched to the home of Ensign James Marston for an outdoor community dinner, more speeches, band music, and a flag raising.

On the 50th anniversary of Independence Day, in 1826, Andover's celebration took place at Andover Village with a group march from the Village Green to collect the "orders of the day," the Chaplain, Orator, and Reader of the Declaration of Independence. The assembly then marched to the meetinghouse for oration and reading, and lastly to an "elegant bower" where Robert Barber presided over a community repast. Toasts were offered to the Constitution, the President, the Congress, the Navy, and others, each toast followed by a discharge of musketry.

The present tradition of Fourth of July celebrations was started during World War II by two members of the Blackwater Grange, Etta Currier Haughton and Olive Seavey, to entertain Andover youngsters at a time when so many menfolk were away in the service. Shortly thereafter, community volunteers formally organized the Fourth of July Committee, a non-profit community service organization whose sole purpose is to plan, oversee, and pay for the Fourth of July celebration.

Over the years, more features were added to the celebration, such as a parade, band concert, field games, pony pulling contest, street dancing, supper, midway, and fireworks, until it grew into an elaborate celebration for the whole community and great numbers of outside visitors as well.

Andover's Fourth of July celebration has become our community's "big day," a celebration in which everyone is invited to take part. Outside commercialization has been avoided, except that local, non-profit organizations are welcome to participate in the parade, flea market, and other fundraising activities on the Village Green, contributing a percentage of their profits toward future celebrations.

On behalf of the Town of Andover and the Fourth of July Committee, welcome! We hope you will enjoy yourself as we observe our Independence Day together. May we all share many more!

HONOR OUR FLAG

When the honor guard passes with the American flag in the parade, or when the flag is raised or lowered on the Village Green, everyone should stop what they're doing, stand, face the flag, and put their hand over their heart. Men should remove their hats, too. Parents should call their children's attention to the flag and show them how to properly honor it.

KEEP KIDS SAFE DURING THE PARADE

If you're in the parade throwing candy, always throw it into the crowd, not onto the street. If you're watching the parade, stay well back from the street, and never let children dart into the street to get candy.

CROSS ONLY AT CROSSWALKS

The Village Green will be blocked off along Main Street to keep pedestrians from crossing Main Street except at the crosswalks at each end of the Village Green (at Lawrence Street and just east of Jake's Market).

FIREWORKS LOCATION

Starting this year, the fireworks will be shot off from the Proctor Ski Area to get them higher and to keep viewers safe. The best viewing areas will still be Corson Field behind AE/MS and Carr Field on Main Street.

RAIN DATE

If the forecast for July 4 looks threatening, the Fourth of July Committee will decide by 6 PM on July 3 whether to postpone the celebration to July 5. If it is postponed, that will be announced on Andover's cable TV channels, on the Andover Fourth of July Facebook page, on The Andover Beacon's Web site at AndoverBeacon.com, and on the Town Web site at Andover.NH.us.

If the celebration is postponed, the parade itself must be cancelled, as the state permit to block the road is only valid for July 4. In that case, participants are encouraged to bring their floats to Lawrence Street at 11 AM on July 5 for the public to enjoy and for judging and prizes, and parade bands are invited to perform on the Village Green on July 5.

FOURTH OF JULY PARKING

- From 6 AM to 1 PM on July 4, there will be no parking on North Street, nor on the south (eastbound) side of Main Street between Jake's Market and Pizza Chef, nor on one side of Lawrence Street.
- From 6:30 to 10 PM on July 4, the Andover Elementary/Middle School parking lot will be for handicap-stickered vehicles only.
